

Be Still and Know That I Am God

Psalm 46

Russell Boone

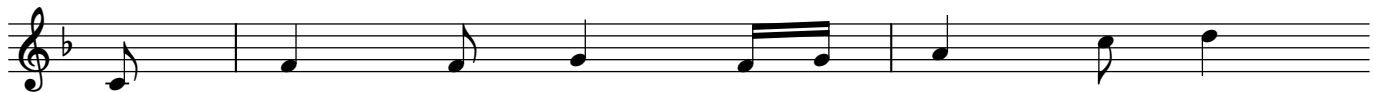

Thomas Baker

1 Though troubles come and fears a bound,
2 Though rivers swell and waters roar,
3 Though nations rage and then call,
4 Though earth should melt, be not afraid;
5 Though your heart aches with sin and guilt,

And calm and rest can not be found;
And ocean temp - ests pound the shore;
And blas - pheme as they see you fall;
See des - o - la - tions I have made;
My Son has died, His blood was spilt;

Though peace seems like a cruel fa - cade,
Though moun - tains shake the land a - broad,
Though mock - ing en - e - mies ap - plaud,
Ob - serve, and let your soul be awed,
My grace is great, My love is broad,

Be still, and know that I am God. (Selah.)
Be still, and know that I am God.
Be still, and know that I am God.
Be still, and know that I am God.
Be still, and know that I am God.
